FIFA introduces the “Ultimate Team” mode in FIFA 22. The mode allows players to create the “dream team” from all 22 real-life players, by customising each player’s strengths, ratings and attributes. Players can then compete against rival “Ultimate” teams created with the same customised attributes. FIFA has been voted the best football video game in the world by FIFA’s global team of more than 40 distinguished analysts and editors from around the globe. And FIFA is the most successful sports video game of all time, with sales of more than 200 million copies sold worldwide, and is the bestselling sports video game of all time.” Once again, EA Sports has broken new ground by releasing the largest core football game in video game history, with more than 600 players. FIFA 22 features 22 real-life players, including four UEFA Champions League players, 12 Eredivisie players, six La Liga players and four Bundesliga players. All 22 players are also playable in Customised FIFA 22 modes.

Additional features for FIFA 22 include a brand new “Football Intelligence System” that improves player identification, crowd sound, gameplay conditions and the presentation of the game. The “Football Intelligence System” is a universal Real Player Motion (RPM) engine, powered by the new “True Player Instincts,” that provides contextually relevant AI behaviours. RPM will also be used to enable the “Racing Gimmick” in the “Ultimate Team” mode. The “Racing Gimmick” is a new game mechanic that will transform the on-field action into a high-octane car race. “We are really excited with the improvements we have made to the game engine this year,” says Mike Dailly, FIFA Lead Designer. “We have made significant changes to the gameplay features and structure of the game, to ensure that we have the most immersive and enjoyable football experience possible.” A new new, dynamic One Touch Control System provides players with more freedom and control in the final third of the pitch. The new “One Touch Control System” gives players unprecedented control in the aerial game, by unifying the defensive and offensive characteristics of aerial duels. The “One Touch Control System” improves the likelihood of goal scoring, as defenders now must deal with more unpredictability when looking for aerial
