A: You need the regedist32.dll from Windows SDK. Put it somewhere on your system and add the reference to it like so: You can confirm the reference by going to Properties->References and see if it shows up. Also, If you're using VS2010, you might want to upgrade to VS2012, which has bug fixes, and faster build times.

Arrests made after people shot on Walt Disney property West Palm Beach, Fla. - Last week, witnesses saw people running from a blue Toyota Avalon that was being shot at by a gun-wielding suspect early Thursday morning. Police are now searching for the suspect. Four people were shot. Two of them were taken to the hospital. The other two were not hurt. Investigators say the shooting happened at Disney property, but they are not releasing where on the property it happened.

Would You Ever Leave This Guy? Rate this post Would You Ever Leave This Guy? Catherine Brayles is a college professor. Ever since a naked man in a mask broke into her home to rape and sodomize her, she has been afraid to leave her home. Her husband has taken to calling police at every sound and will only step outside after carefully screening the windows and doors. Catherine's husband was a very successful man in business until a political scandal sank the company he founded. This caused him to lose all his money and he has since tried to mold his life into something that is reminiscent of the way he was before, that is to say, secure and successful. He is now more of a recluse than ever and spends his days and nights watching television and reading the newspaper while he listens to Vivaldi's "Four Seasons" on his CD player. If you were to ask him about his business he would give you a long lecture about how he could do anything, but now if the question came up again he would say, "Catherine, I just can't do that anymore". Catherine is bored out of her mind, but she has taken a job teaching at the local college. She has spent the last two months trying to figure out how
